P2 Level Letter 2018 (Term 3)

Dear Parent / Guardian,

Every Child Can Learn, Every Child Can Serve, Every Child is Special

The P2 level teachers would like to extend our warm greetings to all parents. We hope that the June holidays have been a fruitful one. We hope that your child has spent the holiday meaningfully and is enthusiastic to begin semester 2.

In alignment with the term's value of integrity, please find below excerpts from an article "Abraham Lincoln's great laws of truth, integrity: A long career ruled by honesty" by Gordon Leidner for your reading.

Mary Todd Lincoln once wrote to a friend that "Mr. Lincoln . . . is almost monomaniac on the subject of honesty."

The future president was first called "Honest Abe" when he was working as a young store clerk in New Salem, Ill. According to one story, whenever he realized he had short-changed a customer by a few pennies, he would close the shop and deliver the correct change--regardless of how far he had to walk.

People recognised his integrity and were soon asking him to act as a judge or mediator in various contests, fights and arguments. According to Robert Rutledge of New Salem, "Lincoln's judgment was final in all that region of country. People relied implicitly upon his honesty, integrity and impartiality."

As a member of the Illinois legislature and later in his law practice, he took advantage of his reputation for honesty and fairness to help broaden his constituency. His good name helped win him four consecutive terms in the legislature.

Lincoln soon moved to Springfield, Ill, and began his law practice, a profession at which he admitted there was a "popular belief that lawyers are necessarily dishonest." His advice to potential lawyers was: "Resolve to be honest at all events; and if in your judgment you cannot be an honest lawyer, resolve to be honest without being a lawyer. Choose some other occupation, rather than one in the choosing of which you do, in advance, consent to be a knave."

According to Judge David Davis, in whose court Lincoln practiced for many years, "The framework for [Lincoln's] mental and moral being was honesty and a wrong cause was poorly defended by him." Another judge who had worked with Lincoln agreed, saying "Such was the transparent candour and integrity of his nature that he could not well or strongly argue a side or a cause he thought wrong."

This story reminds us that when we uphold integrity, others will look up to us with deep respect and develop trust in us. This virtue will improve our relationship with ourselves as we are clear of our actions and words and we will be able to relate well with others too as a result. We hope that students will align themselves with the school value of integrity this term by internalising and applying this value in their everyday life. We hope that parents will reiterate and practise the value of integrity in their child's thoughts, speech and actions as well.

Every Teacher is a Professional, Every Parent a Supportive Partner

We would like to thank all parents who had made time to connect with the form teachers during the meet-the-parent session held on 25 May 2018.
